I would ABSOLUTELY recommend the YEL programme! It has been beneficial in so many ways; not only have I gained leadership skills and industry knowledge, but it has been a great opportunity to build an incredible business network all around the world, as well as an amazing group of friends! In just a short amount of time, this programme has opened doors to business opportunities and strengthened pre-existing relationships.

WILL MCFALL, BURNBRAE FARMS, CANADA

A personal highlight of the YEL programme for me was visiting global institutions like WHO and WOA, which gave me invaluable insight from an egg industry point of view as to how these international policymakers work. Overall, the programme helped me grow both personally and professionally. These experiences, along with engaging discussions and other industry visits, broadened my perspective and deepened my understanding of our sector.

PRICING

The programme is £6,800 per participant. Registration for the WEO Business Conference in April and the WEO Global Leadership Conference in September for both years is included as part of the YEL Programme.

Please note: Flights, meals and accommodation are not included in the price of the programme.

SELECTION PROCESS

The Young Egg Leaders Programme is designed for the next generation within egg producing and processing companies on a clear trajectory to a senior leadership position. Exceptions can be made, particularly for those within the industry that have ownership potential, subject to WEO Board approval.

The programme is a member-only initiative. Non-members can take part in the Young Egg Leader Programme by registering as a member.

Participation at the WEO Business Conference in April and the WEO Global Leadership Conference in September for both years is required.

Admission to the programme is selective and is based on professional achievements, proven trajectory and personal credentials and motivation. Places are limited with geographic balance being a key consideration.
